The Dubbo Service Project provide holiday activities for primary school children and life skills programs suited for teenagers.

The children are from a socially disadvantaged area of Dubbo, a rural city in Central NSW. Many of them are Indigenous Australians.

The Dubbo Service Projects are organised by Reledev Australia Limited in collaboration with Creston College.

Creston College is a residential college for women affiliated with the University of New South Wales, and a centre for learning and leadership.
College activities of a spiritual nature are entrusted to Opus Dei, a personal Prelature of the Catholic Church (www.opusdei.org.au).

Reledev Australia is a non-government organisation providing relief, education and development in Australia and abroad.
